In this upside down world that we live in
It's so easy for us to forget
There's a promise that we've all been given
And it has not failed

There are times when we all make decisions
That can cost so much more than they give
Bringing loss and regret and division
But that promise is

Everything you and I ever go through Even things we would change if we could
Will be used by God's Grace to bring blessing
God's working it all for good

When the clouds of despair or delusion
Make it hard for the Light to get through
There's a clearing beyond the confusion
God is calling us

From the other side of all our questions
Beyond why and beyond who's to blame
We all learn some of our deepest lessons
Through our deepest pain

Double Chorus

Tag: God's working it all, God's working it all,
God's working it all for good. (repeat)
