Surrender

I carry no burdens, no pain
I have become a riverbed for the rain
Come what may
I have chosen to surrender

Make your rib cage hollow like a flute
So God can play music in you
You don't have to fly away
You can just surrender

In your heart
There's a key
Hidden in Tranquility
You will find
What you need
In surrender

Refuse to settle for halfway anymore
Don't use your God to settle the score
You don't have to wage war
You can just surrender
