A Dance on the Grass

May you go like a dance out on the grass as you're watching the day's final golden light pass with the twirl of a cotton dress patterned with flowers may you go, gently go, through these final hours.

May you go like a dance out in the yard with a voice in your ear whispering, "It's not that hard. just keep moving your bare feet 'til we move as one and we'll go, gently go, as the day is done."

May you go like a dance out on the grass as the evening's long shadows embrace you at last in the arms of a mystery, all burdens now gone may you go, gently go, as the dance goes on.

Hmm....
